France Urges Bombing Halt

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — France asserted today that only a decisive initiative from the United States can create conditions to end "the sterile and indefinite pursuit of fighting" in Vietnam.

In a policy speech before the 122-nation General Assembly, French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville asked whether this initiative might be "as many say, the unconditional suspension, and unlimited in time, of the bombing that is ravaging North Vietnam."

"No one would approve of such a decision more than France," he said, "and first because it would put an end to the suffering of many Vietnamese. If, following this measure, discussion could be envisaged, as the Hanoi government has stated several times since January, we would also be pleased, and this indeed could probably be the first step."

Couve de Murville recalled that he had appealed a year ago for a return to the Geneva agreements of 1954, which would mean the withdrawal of all foreign military forces, he said, and the settlement of the Vietnam problem by the Vietnamese themselves.

Vietnam Different

He declared that the Vietnam conflict is completely different from the Middle East problem and other world disputes because "one of the greatest powers of our times—perhaps the greatest—has directly involved itself there."

"That is also one reason—after others often mentioned and legal in nature—why it would be quite illusory to try to submit it to the judgment of our organization."

Turning to the Middle East, Couve de Murville insisted that Israel could not be allowed to hold the Arab territory occupied during the June war.

This, he said, would mean putting off to future generations, if not making impossible, a settlement which would permit Jews and Arabs to live side by side.

Follows De Gaulle Line

His speech followed generally lines previously laid down in statements by President Charles de Gaulle.

De Gaulle also has had France's withdrawal from NATO's military arm as a signal for general relaxation of tension. He pictures the United States and the Soviet Union as hostile giants whose association must reflect their policies, and claims that by leaving NATO, France "freed herself from such bondage."

So far, Britain has been the only Atlantic partner to support U.S. Vietnam policy in the assembly's policy debate.

Assessors Elect R. Gerald Barr

WASHINGTON (AP) — R. Gerald Barr of Port Huron, a member of the Michigan State Tax Commission, was elected Wednesday as president of the International Association of Assessing Officers.

Barr succeeds A. J. B. Gray, assessment commissioner of Toronto, Ont.

Appointed to the state tax commission in 1953, Barr also has served as chairman of the Michigan State Board of Equalization and the State Board of Assessors.

State Police Chief Says Riot Call Was Tardy

LANSING (AP)—Last July's bloody riot in Detroit could have been better controlled if more policemen had been sent in earlier, Michigan's State Police Director said Wednesday.

Col. Frederick Davids added he thought Detroit Police Commissioner Ray Girardin, who twice declined State Police aid on the Sunday morning when the five-day riot began, received "inadequate and possibly inaccurate information" from his men on the scene.

He also acknowledged that after State Police, National Guardsmen and federal troops all entered the city, "There was a good deal of confusion about who was in charge."

"Anyone in his right mind knows that when you split up the command it doesn't make the job any easier," Davids told a special Senate Committee on Crime Legislation.

He said that when the first disturbances broke out, Detroit police purposely were slow to react, hoping the situation could be calmed without use of force.

"I think an honest attempt was made," Davids said. "But I believe, in all sincerity, that too much time lapsed before they realized that this attempt had failed. To use a corny phrase, I think that's where the battle was lost."

"This opinion is shared by some pretty high-ranking Detroit police officers," Davids added. He did not name them.

Davids said he talked with Girardin by telephone at 7:15 a. m. and about 10:30 a. m. Sunday—July 23—and that both times Girardin said he thought State Police help would be unnecessary.

At the same time, Davids said, State Police were getting grimmer reports from residents of the riot area who wondered why the troopers had not been sent in. "I was quite concerned because you'd hear all sorts of different reports, bits and pieces of things," he said.

Davids said he had already had mobilized a State Police force when Detroit authorities finally requested their aid at 2:05 p. m.

"I think anything Girardin said was based on the intelligence that was given to him," Davids said. "I don't care if you're running a baseball team or a war, if you don't have good intelligence, you're likely to end up on the bottom of the totem pole."

"The recent Detroit disturbances possibly couldn't have been prevented," Davids said. "But law enforcement officers could have been better prepared if they'd had more intelligence people out on the street."

Davids said he would ask the Legislature to authorize purchase of three armored riot-control vehicles and about $255,000 worth of radio equipment to convert single-frequency radios to multiple frequencies and to install scramblers on radio transmitters.

"There is increasing evidence," he said, "that our transmissions are being monitored by organized groups, and this could seriously hamper our effectiveness."

The State Police director also called for a law forbidding interference with an on-duty fireman.

"It should not be necessary for one company of firemen to be detailed with fire axes to protect their hoses while the other companies are fighting fires," he said, "and this happened in some cases in Detroit."

Davids acknowledged State Police are testing riot gases, but said the department will withhold using them until the U. S. Health Department is satisfied they are not harmful to health.

Johnson Inspects Texas Flood Area; Federal Aid Asked

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Floodwaters continued to rise in this lower Rio Grande Valley city today as President Johnson prepared to fly to the hurricane-and flood-devastated area for an inspection.

The Arroyo Colorado, massive diversionary channel of the Rio Grande, dropped slowly while the river edged higher.

Beneath the flood waters lay more than 800 of this usually sparkling town's finest residences, some wholly submerged.

Families from 50 to 60 homes in less affluent neighborhoods were the latest to be driven out Wednesday night as the runaway Arroyo Colorado made end runs around hurriedly constructed dikes.

Bulldozer crews threw up new dikes to stem the flow shortly after midnight.

Flooding worsened as water shot in small geysers from over-taxed storm sewers. Engineers said the waters of the Arroyo, into which rainfall usually drains, were backing into the city because there was nowhere else to go.

More businesses suffered and more streets were awash. The Air Force rushed a team of airlift experts, 22 officers and men, from Dyess Air Force Base near Abilene, Tex. Tactical Air Command units at Langley Field, Va., and at Forbes, Lockbourne, Pope, Edwards and Dyess AFBs were ordered to stand by for airlift of refugees from the area.

C130s at Forbes were ready to take off.

Gov. John B. Connally, who planned to meet President Johnson in Austin today with a formal request for federal aid, ordered 300 additional National Guardsmen to join 600 already on duty in the stricken areas.

Red Cross, Salvation Army, 4th Army and Texas Department of Public Safety disaster and relief crews, tired from days of turmoil unleashed by Hurricane Beulah and the subsequent floods, stayed on the job to care for refugees and direct evacuations.

As more water flowed in late Wednesday night, Mayor George Young told Harlingen residents via radio and television, "We'll be in jeopardy for another three days . . . With a little bad luck, we could be in another nasty mess."

"One of the things that could happen," Young said, was for rain to fall upstream. As he spoke, light showers peppered Laredo, 180 miles up the Rio Grande. There also was fresh rainfall on the stream's watershed in Mexico.

Refugee shelters housed 30,000 persons cared for by the Red Cross, 1,500 by the Salvation Army and hundreds of others in Raynosa and Matamoros, Mexican cities just across the Rio Grande.

Cosat Orbits A Switchboard

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Pacific 2, a new commercial switchboard satellite, orbited earth today en route to a permanent outpost high over the Pacific Ocean where it can expand communications links between the Far East, Hawaii and the U.S. mainland.

The Cosat Corp. craft, launched Wednesday night from Cape Kennedy into a near perfect path ranging from about 200 to 23,000 miles above the earth, is to fire an on-board motor Saturday on its seventh orbit to settle the spacecraft on station over the equator southeast of Hawaii.

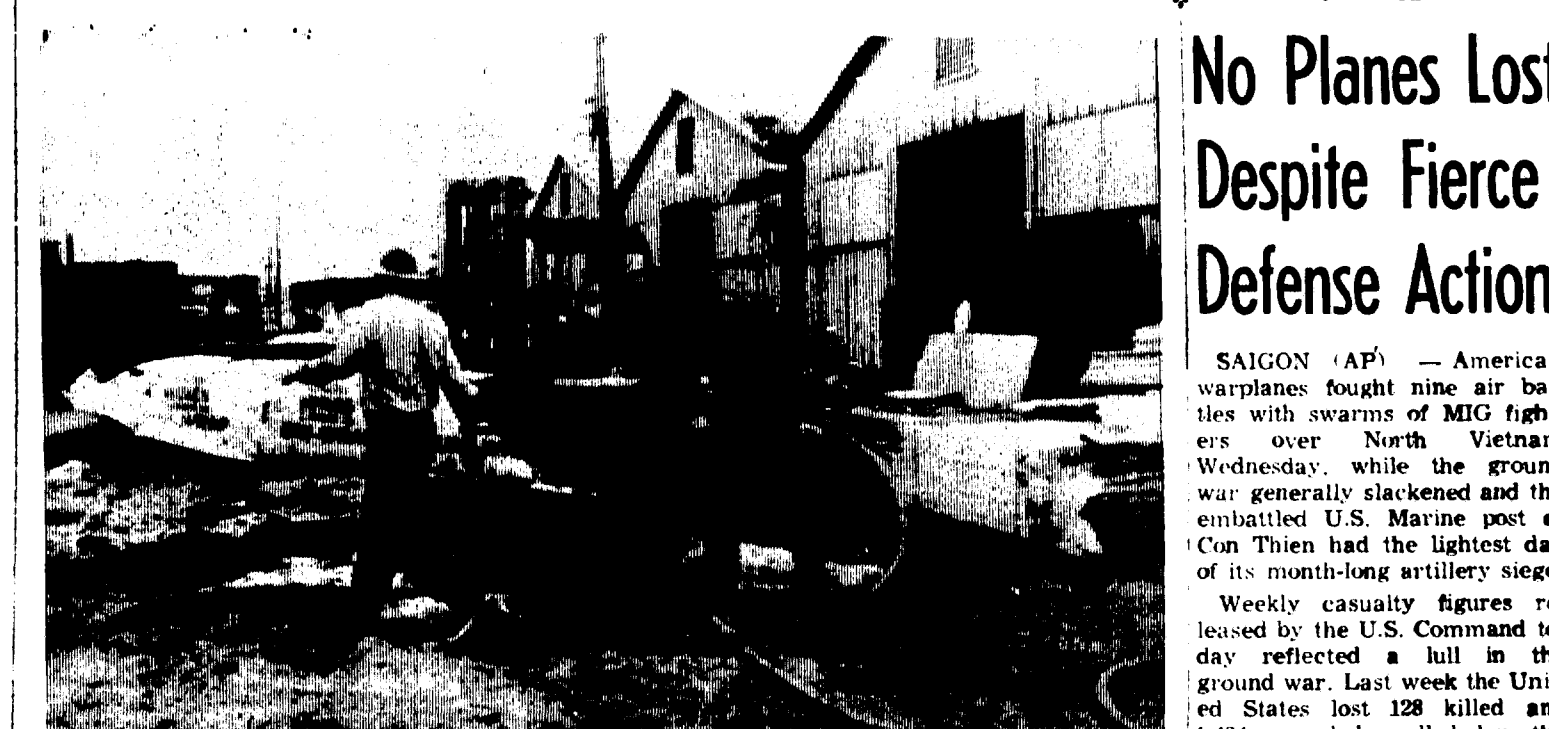

The satellite was designed to double Cosat's communications circuits spanning the Pacific, opening new channels for increased telephone and telegraph traffic.

Cosat officials said new channels provided by the craft also would improve chances for live World Series telecasts to baseball-conscious Japan, live coverage of an upcoming golf championship in Hawaii and more trans-Pacific telecasts of events such as U.N. sessions.

$5 Billion Spending Slash Plan Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has indirectly ordered its Appropriations Committee to present a $5 billion plan for presidential cutting of federal spending if it wants funds for government departments about to run out of money.

The move is the latest in a wrangle between President Johnson and Congress over taxes and spending.

Republicans and some Democrats say Johnson can't win an income tax increase unless he promises beforehand to cut spending.

The Appropriations Committee voted 28 to 21 Wednesday not to include in the temporary appropriations measure a provision directing the President to cut spending this year by at least $5 billion. Later in the day, the House voted 202 to 182 to return the temporary appropriations bill and have the committee reconsider its action.

The committee may meet again today but there was a question whether enough votes could be changed to alter its Wednesday decision. It could work out a compromise to break the deadlock but there was no assurance the Senate would accept a mandatory spending cut.

The Senate already has turned down a House-voted provision to cut spending by five percent in an earlier measure.

On the vote to return the bill to committee, 168 Republicans and 34 Democrats were on the winning side, while 182 Democrats banded on the losing side in support of the administration.

Eighteen Republicans and 31 Democrats did not vote.

Among the Democrats voting with the GOP was Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee. He has insisted that if Johnson is going to have his bill for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge, Congress must first be guaranteed there will be spending cuts.

But Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the Appropriations Committee said this would amount to giving the President "a blank check" and "terrific, unheard of and unprecedented" power.

Mahon said control of the federal purse strings is the responsibility of Congress. "Should we yield our authority—just because we haven't done our job?" he asked.

The temporary appropriations bill, which would be routine under usual circumstances, would provide money through October for agencies whose current emergency financing expires Saturday.

Romney Dodges Political Queries

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Near the wing of the chartered plane, the questions came fast. They were political and Michigan Gov. George Romney sidestepped each one.

What did he think of Republican Sen. Thurston B. Morton's statement that President Johnson had been brainwashed on Vietnam? "This trip," answered Romney, "is as nonpolitical as you can make it."

What are your views on Vietnam?

That too, he said, was out of bounds.

Today Romney goes from this southeastern Pennsylvania industrial city to Philadelphia, then to Boston. He closes his tour Saturday in Pittsburgh.

On Wednesday, Romney started in Atlanta, then flew to Florence, S.C.

There he visited a men's store, remodeled with private capital. He suggested to the owner that perhaps there was too much fed money being handed around.

"No, no," said the owner. "We need federal money. Don't pass up any of it."

The governor next visited classrooms at a technical education center and talked with instructors and students.

"You know," he told two workmen, "my forebears were builders as far back as the 15th Century, as far back as we can trace them."

From there Romney's group went to Kingstree in the rural tobacco country of South Carolina, where Romney discussed local problems with Negroes and whites. He then visited some Negro sharecroppers.

On his arrival here later in the day, Romney visited the Greater Chester Movement Opportunities Center. Two pickets who identified themselves as former social workers in Michigan told the governor he should go back to his home state to work on slum problems.

Romney came away from his tour of predominantly Negro Williamsburg County in South Carolina "somewhat surprised" at the degree of racial harmony.

"In some ways," he said, "what I've seen here indicates a basis for possible (racial) progress—faster than what we could see in the north."

The governor spent six hours in South Carolina. Before leaving, Romney told political writers traveling with him that based on what he'd seen, "I think those of us in other parts of the country may be in for a real shock."

No Planes Lost Despite Fierce Defense Action

SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes fought nine air battles with swarms of MIG fighters over North Vietnam Wednesday, while the ground war generally slackened and the embattled U.S. Marine post at Con Thien had the lightest day of its month-long artillery siege.

Weekly casualty figures released by the U.S. Command today reflected a lull in the ground war. Last week the United States lost 128 killed and 1,434 wounded, well below the weekly average. Communist losses reported by the U.S. Command for the week were 1,134 dead, also below average.

Most of the American casualties were among the Marines holding positions in the Con Thien area, 2 1/2 miles below the DMZ, against a possible invasion of South Vietnam's northern provinces by 35,000 North Vietnamese troops massed in and near the buffer zone.

Clearing skies enabled American pilots to fly 150 combat missions Wednesday in making a near-maximum effort over the North for the second straight day. The Americans ran into fierce antiaircraft fire and nearly every operational jet the Reds could put in the sky.

Marine Jet Hit

Although there were nine dog-fights with the MIG17s and MIG21s, no planes were reported damaged or downed in these battles. The one loss listed by the U.S. Command was a Marine A4 Skyhawk jet hit by ground fire above the demilitarized zone, the 685th plane downed over North Vietnam. The pilot ejected over the Tonkin Gulf and was rescued.

The American planes, trying to impair North Vietnam's ability to support its ground forces in the South, struck at communications links and supply points. Air Force planes raked Hanoi's rail lines to Red China and an ammunition dump near Hon Gai, the country's second port.

Navy planes from the carriers Constellation, Coral Sea and Intrepid pounded supply routes up and down the coast, and reported hitting a number of barges.

All Red Jets Up

The Communist intercepting force included nearly all the planes the U.S. Command believes are at bases south of the Red Chinese border. U.S. officials say the rest of North Vietnam's air force, totaling 80 to 90 planes, is stationed in Red China and flown south to North Vietnamese bases for use as needed in the air war.

American fliers said the enemy planes darted from clouds, firing air-to-air missiles, then sped out of range with extra thrusts of speed from afterburners. The U.S. pilots, who fired their own missiles, said the MIGs seemed to deliberately avoid long engagements.

Communist fire on the fortress at Con Thien appeared to be falling off and only 103 rounds were reported Wednesday. Casualties there were listed as two dead and two wounded.

It appeared that Marine headquarters, sensitive to the mounting losses on the red-clay hills was de-emphasizing battle reports from the post, which took 1,000 mortars, rocket and artillery rounds Monday.

Raise $1,000:

Students Sponsor School In Africa

By MARY KNOLL

The students of the Escanaba Area High School raised $1,000 last spring to sponsor a school in Tanzania, Africa, through the Peace Corps' School Partnership Program.

Through this program, which Sargent Shriver, Peace Corps director, refers to as a "major international self-help program," a school in Africa provides money for construction materials and sends it to the selected location, where members of the local community will work with Peace Corps volunteers on the building. One of the main objectives of the School Partnership Program is to promote meaningful relationships between students of different countries.

The $1,000 was raised with activities and donations. One of these, was "Hobo Day." Students paid to attend school dressed as "hoboes," or in any manner they wished. Those who didn't comply to the "Hobo Rules" were fined. An "Ugly Boy" contest also was held. An "ugly boy" was selected from each class, and students voted for their favorite "ugly boy" by dropping money into their "ugly" boxes. The winner was the boy receiving the most money.

Work Under Way

The Future Nurses Club donated, as did the Student Council, which organized and managed the School Partnership Program at Escanaba High.

Building on the school, which is located in Mpolo, Tanzania, a village with a population of 2,000, was begun in July. Peace Corps Volunteer Robert Duncan, who will teach at the school when it is completed, wrote in a letter dated Sept. 4, that "work on the school is coming along as well as can be expected."

To date, Duncan reports, the people have finished baking the bricks, and have a good start on hauling sand and gravel to the site of the school. All doors, frames, and windows are made and have been delivered to the site.

A few difficulties and obstacles had to be overcome. A road was cleared to the village, and the inexperienced villagers had to be united in a community effort to build the school. Duncan continued, "the villagers have completed their harvesting, and are now resting. And to them, rest means relaxation. Yes, this is the drinking season."

"However," he added, "the villagers are doing their share of the work."

School To Grow

When completed, the school will have three classrooms, an office, and a storeroom — all of which will be capable of accommodating 120 students at a time. Initially, only 1st and 2nd grades will be taught, but with the addition of more teachers, they will be able to teach up to the 5th grade. More classrooms will be added in the future to make the school a full primary one.

Duncan, the teacher, is from Pennsylvania, and has a degree in political science. He has been in Tanzania with the Peace Corps since 1964. He taught the 7th and 8th grades for two years in the area, and decided to extend for one more year on the School Partnership Program.

To participate in the School Partnership Program, the interested school must first notify the School-to-School office in Washington, D.C., about how much money will be raised and approximately how long it will take. When the desired amount has been raised, the School-to-School office must again be notified, and they will at this time, select the appropriate location for the new school. After the contribution has been sent, the Peace Corps Director will write the sponsor school, telling the exact location and details of the project.

Pennsylvania State University plans a new computer science B.S. program; new two-year materials technology program leading to the associate degree.

High School Is Dental Office For 1,400 Kids

Escanaba Area High School isn't considered by most to be a dentist's office, but for over 1,400 different children in the past year that's exactly where tooth met drill.

In Delta County's unique dental program for children from disadvantaged families, over 3,000 separate dental problems have been treated since December of 1966.

That includes some 1,600 fillings — all free of charge.

The clinic was initiated by the Escanaba Exchange Club, but has since been taken over by the Delta-Memorial District Health Dept. with the Exchange Club offering all of the financial assistance it can (proceeds from the Exchange Club auction this weekend at the Fairgrounds will help support the program.)

Dr. Mary Cretens, health dept. director, said she also has been able to pick up some state and federal funds and that dental technicians have been paid for through work experience programs, which train technicians as they work.

The clinic was operated by Dr. William Asselin of Norway until he opened his own private practice in August. Since that time, Dr. James Stanchina, also of Norway, has taken over.

A spring graduate of the University of Michigan Dental School, Dr. Stanchina took the job with the clinic until he is called into the Armed Forces, Dr. Cretens said.

Of the children treated, Dr. Cretens added, most are in the age five to nine group, although children of other ages have been treated, too. This age, she said, offers best hope for treatment and instruction in proper dental hygiene before teeth become too badly deteriorated.

Dr. Cretens pointed out that many of the children treated at the clinic come from large families where income must be used to provide food and clothing, etc., leaving little for dental treatments.

The clinic is currently operating full time. Its only cost is the salary of the dentist. Space at the high school is do-noted free of charge and the Exchange Club has purchased all the necessary equipment and supplies.

"There is a real need for the clinic," Dr. Cretens said. "There are other services available (the Health Dept. for diseases, immunizations, etc.), but no money for a dental program. I hope we can keep it going."

Injured Youth Would Welcome Letters, Cards

Mark Olson, 15, of Escanaba, who suffered paralysis when he fractured his neck at the Escanaba beach on June 22, would like to receive letters and cards to help brighten his convalescence.

They should be addressed to him at University Hospital, Rehabilitation W 10, Ann Arbor, Mich. 48108.

Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard E. Olson of 627 S. 17th St. Mrs. Olson returned Wednesday from Ann Arbor where she was with her son while he received surgery, from which he is now recovering.

The boy was paralyzed from the neck down but is now making some improvement, his parents said.

Small Game Hunt Opens Sunday

Fewer Deer, Few More Pats Seen

There seem to be fewer deer about for the archery hunt opening on Sunday, Oct. 1 but prospect is somewhat improved here for the ruffed grouse hunters as the upland small game starts, the Conservation Department reports.

For the Escanaba District, No. 3, which embraces Delta and Marquette counties and the west half of Alger, here is the prospect for the small game hunt as seen by specialists of the Conservation Department:

Partridge: Despite a rough winter and a cold, late spring, partridge seem to be more in evidence this year. June and July brood counts showed a good increase, and many woods workers have seen more grouse this year than last. Last fall bird hunting was generally poor, with hunting success dropping an estimated 30 per cent under 1965. So it appears there will be some improvement over last year, but nothing spectacular.

Pheasants Scarce

Grouse populations fluctuate widely from year to year, game biologists say, with hunting having no effect. Good wild crops of bunchberry, thornapple and dogwood berries will attract partridge and hunters will do well to seek the birds in such cover.

Sharpshinned Toward: All indications point toward a sharp-tail population at about the same level as last fall. Pine cherry and choke cherry crops were not as abundant this year and the hunter will have to search harder in the grassy openings to flush birds. Recommended spots in Alger county are Limestone and Lunenburg; in Marquette County Little West and Goose Lake and in Delta County the Rock area and Spring Lake.

Pheasants: The unusually late spring seemed to affect the spring census, with a lower count. It's probable that the hatch was reduced, because sighting of these birds are down this year. Best chances of flushing a cock pheasant is in the Bark River-Shafter area.

Cowbirds: Spring surveys showed no important change in the numbers of this bird. The season opened Sept. 15 for the first time this year. Few hunters have been afield because of high temperatures, heavy cover and lack of flight birds from the north. With colder weather woodcocks should be found in alder thickets, creek bottoms, seepages and swamp margins.

Cottontail Rabbits and Snowshoe Hares: After a good hunting season last year these animals continue plentiful. Hunting doesn't usually get very serious before snow cover.

Gray Squirrels: Little changed. Fair to good nut crops this year will attract the small group of hunters that pursue them.

Geese On Oct. 1

Raccoons: Plentiful, little bothered by hunters and deserving more attention because of their sporting qualities, say conservation officers.

Geese: Again this year a separate opener for geese on Sunday, Oct. 1 at 10 a.m. CDT. With delayed nesting in Canada, local flights are expected somewhat later than last year, with probably more stopover by blue and snow geese.

Bear: The season reopens following a two week rest and an earlier successful hunt from Sept. 1-15, when an estimated 70 bear were taken in the Escanaba District. Bears appear to have increased this year. Most successful bear hunters are those joining organized hunts which follow trained hounds. Cubs now have complete protection for the first time.

Deer: Archery season opens Oct. 1. Most indications are that the herd is below the level of last fall. A severe winter cost a sizeable number of deer and production and survival of fawns was also lower. Local prospect is that archers will have to work harder to find deer.

Stirton Named President Of Architect Firm

Harley, Ellington, Cowin & Stirton Inc., a Detroit-based architectural and engineering firm has elected Malcolm R. Stirton, A. I. A., president. He succeeds Julian R. Cowin, A. I. A., who was elected chairman.

Stirton is architect in charge of the two coming Upper Peninsula projects, a 36-apartment structure for the elderly in Manistique and a 60-unit apartment building in Negaunee.

Under construction is the chemistry and biological sciences building at Michigan Tech in Houghton. The building is the tallest (seven stories) steel-framed building in the U. P. Stirton Inc. is also in the initial stages of planning housing for the elderly in Houghton.

Work completed by the firm in the U. P. includes a master plan for Keweenaw Air Force Base bomb storage at Sault Ste. Marie; buildings at Camp Laves; armories in Ironwood, Marquette, Iron River, Sault Ste. Marie and Ishpeming.

Alumni Dinner

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University's acting president, Ogden E. Johnson, will be the principal speaker at the annual NMU Alumni Association dinner here Thursday, Oct. 5. Northern alumni from more than 25 Upper Peninsula communities are expected to attend the dinner which is scheduled to start at 6 p.m. in the University Center.

Airborne 'Fire Spotters' Replace 5 Lookout Towers

Forest fire detection in a vast central Upper Peninsula area of 1,000 square miles (just a little smaller than the whole State of Rhode Island) will take to the air through the services of Jon Thorin Aviation of Escanaba on Sunday, Oct. 1.

The contract for the air patrols is between Thorin and the U. S. Forest Service and represents a major change in the USS fire detection method here, said Lawrence Haack, fire control, recreation and wildlife staff assistant for the Forest Service.

The contract with Thorin is not the first in the region, however, for the Chippewa Flying Service out of Sault Ste. Marie has been flying air detection beginning a year ago. Those flights cover the eastern end of the U. P.

The new service will replace the operation of five of the old conventional towers as fire detection centers in the area that covers three ranger districts and extends roughly from the Sturgeon Peninsula to Munising, thence east to Manistique and Shingleton, Haack said.

"The men who are presently employed as lookouts in the fire towers will be absorbed by the Forest Service in other projects," he explained. "These men have always been key men in fire control and recreation work and they will continue in those capacities."

Air detection has shown it can do a better job at less cost, Haack said. Those "blind spots" in areas between the fire towers are eliminated, and the need to send out ground crews to check on smoke that might be no more than a small clearing fire on a farm is ended. There is the advantage in the air detection contract of having planes available for control work in an actual forest fire situation.

Thorin Aviation was low bidder for the contract, and in advance of Oct. 1 and the effective date of the contract there have been trial flights made and a flight pattern established.

Each flight will take about one hour of flying time and the number of flights will depend on the burning condition or fire hazard in the area. In periods of extreme danger there may be as many as six flights a day. It is anticipated that a total of 485 hours a year will be spent in the fire detection flights.

Thorin will be advised by the Forest Service on the number of flights it deems necessary. The contract period is from Oct. 1 this year to June 30, 1968, and the contract may

FBI Police School Meets In Escanaba

Law enforcement officers of the area will participate in a Federal Bureau of Investigation police training session at the City Hall in Escanaba Thursday morning. The session will open at 8:45 a. m.

Paul Stoddard, special agent, FBI, is in charge of the conference, one in a continuing series sponsored by the National Crime Information Center. Search and seizure will be topics of discussion.

Attending will be officers of the State Police, Conservation Department, Delta County sheriff's office, and Gladstone and Escanaba city police.

Bishop Baraga Airport Terminal May Be Closed Bid Opening Set

MARQUETTE — Marquette Bishop Baraga High School, operated as a Catholic Central high school since 1957, may be closed, possibly at the end of the 1968-69 school year.

The Bishop Baraga Board of Education said that "the Catholic people of Marquette have indicated their unwillingness to continue support of Bishop

Bids for the construction of a new Escanaba Municipal Airport terminal building will be opened by the City Council at 8 p. m. Oct. 10, at the City Hall.

Announcement of the bid opening was made by James D. Ramsey, director of the Michigan Aeronautics Commission, Lansing. The State and the City are sharing in the cost of the terminal building project. There are no federal funds for this portion of the airport development program.

The proposed new terminal building will be of brick and masonry, one story high, with approximately 6,000 square feet of floor space. The project is to be complete with general construction work, mechanical and electrical work.

The work is scheduled for start of construction on or about Oct. 30 this year and completion by Sept. 1, 1968. Location of the new terminal is south of the east-west runway.

Construction of an extension to the west end of the east-west runway, and other improvements are a separate project which will be assisted financially by grants of both state and federal funds. That project will be advertised and constructed separately from the terminal building.

Next Weekend First Big One For Color Tour

The first big weekend of Michigan's annual autumn color show is expected Sept. 30-Oct. 1 in the Upper Peninsula, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Tourist Council observers reported Sept. 25 that color is about 50 per cent along in the Hancock area with the peak expected in a week to 10 days. Color in the Copper Harbor area, at the northern tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula, is close behind. Observers in the western tip of the Peninsula reported about 75 per cent color and those at Sault Ste. Marie about 30 per cent.

Woman, 84, Put Under Guard In Bizarre Slaying

APPLETON, Wis. — An 84-year-old woman has been placed under guard in an Appleton hospital in connection with a bizarre case police believe to be murder.

Officers Wednesday found a human leg bone in the backyard of her home. About 20 percent of a body, wrapped in newspapers, has been found in various locations in the city. The age and sex of the body have not yet been determined.

The woman's 85-year-old husband reportedly has not been seen for several days. Police Chief Earl Wolff said officers went to the woman's home early today and found it disorderly. The woman was seated in a basement room under a dangling coil of rope thrown over a beam. Wolff said she was in shock and was taken to a hospital.

The Diocese Board has asked Bishop Baraga educators to "devise acceptable alternatives to a full-time high school."

Parish costs for operation of the school have risen steadily in the past five years. This year's budget was set at $115,000 with the six parishes paying about $66,000. Because of reduced enrollment, however, the parish share will be increased by about $7,000.

Peace In Vietnam

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, opening the Detroit Economic Club's fall season, told it that there'll be peace in Vietnam as soon as Communist leaders in North Vietnam accept the fact that they cannot have South Vietnam. Until then, he suggested, the United States must keep its treaty commitments in South Vietnam or risk other wars elsewhere.

This is the official policy pitch of the Johnson Administration on the war; that it inherited it from earlier administrations which were trying to bolster a government in newly created South Vietnam friendly toward the United States and which got the U. S. into a war in the process.

For the administration to suggest that we're in South Vietnam to keep our Southeast Asia Organization treaty commitments, or that Congress' Gulf of Tonkin resolution gives President Johnson a blank check to run the war at Saigon is to bend the pretzel of truth beyond its familiar twist.

Who believes that if the United States could have foreseen when it started sending over "military advisors" to teach the South Vietnamese how to kill commies that it would eventually involve us in one of the longest wars, that we still would have followed this step-by-step march into trouble? So much for our SEATO commitments.

If the war is still going next year — as it appears likely at this time that it may be — it will be the biggest issue in the presidential election. Because this is so, there are enormous pressures to bring it to some kind of conclusion. Our efforts at peace making on a basis of no predetermined demands having been unsuccessful, we are now pushing for military victory.

But even Secretary McNamara has said that we can't bomb them into submission. We're winning when we fight them now but the cost has become huge. A national deficit of $29 billion, the biggest in "peacetime" history is projected and causing President Johnson to suggest a 10 per cent surcharge on federal income taxes. Even that would only remove $6 billion from the shortage and leave a huge deficit and continuing pressure of inflation.

General Westmoreland, our commander, says we're licking them and our more hopeful take some comfort in the recent elections in South Vietnam as an indication that a base for democratic government is being built there, but the size of our task and the unlikelihood of an early or complete victory there is evident.

According to our own count we have killed 200,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnam troops and yet today our forces face the largest enemy force that they have ever faced there, 297,000 men, again by our own count. The foe, once skimpily armed, now has many sophisticated weapons, as the communist world uses the war as a testing laboratory for its arms development.

While a million allied troops have been able to secure only a part of a country not much bigger than New York State and the allies are near full use of their ready forces, North Vietnam has committed only about a fifth of its forces.

This view of events is dull enough, but the deepest American distrust of our involvement arises from our belief that without prolonged outpouring of American strength, the South Vietnamese would collapse like a house of cards. What we have undertaken is the building of a nation where there isn't one, in our concept of democratic statehood, and under conditions so chaotic that we have a hard time identifying our enemies from our allies, and so frustrating that we have taken over more and more of the burden and the South Vietnamese have unshakened more and more.

The Johnson Administration says that the rest of Southeast Asia will fall like dominoes if South Vietnam goes to the communists. Much of the rest of the free world thinks we're on a fools errand in South Vietnam. That's why we have help mostly from Australia, the Philippines, and South Korea while most of our nominal allies trade with the enemy.

It is a confused, confusing commitment and it is a great commendation of the American people that they have solidly supported their government in this undeclared war despite their misgivings.

But the Republicans are increasing their criticism of the Johnson Administration "for not telling the people the truth about the war" — much of the harshest criticism has come from Mr. Johnson's fellow Democrats to date — and the presidential campaign should provide a forum for review of this commitment to determine whether it is a noble support of freedom or a national folly born of a succession of errors.

Stambaugh Resort Complex Is Urged

By JEAN WORTH

The Michigan Advisory Task Force for the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission has received a suggestion that it consider a township development project as a pilot study in what can be done to develop the recreation business in the region.

The suggestion was made to the Task Force's recent meeting in Ishpeming by August F. Blome, Crystal Falls, manpower development trainer for Lake Superior State College in the western Upper Peninsula, speaking for the Four Lakes Corp. The project site would be Stambaugh Township in Iron County.

The Task Force is considering projects for the program to be undertaken by the three-state Regional Commission with federal and state funds in an application of the Appalachia Project technique for regional development to the Northern Lake States.

Economic Stimulus
Blome told the Task Force that the U. S. Department of Labor won't let the UPGAL-Lake Superior State College job training program train workers for the tourist business on an on-the-job basis because the business is seasonal.

The U. P. economy, said Blome, is heavily dependent upon mining, forest product industries and tourism and to develop the latter Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan should consider a demonstration project of a conference center to show what development can be generated by such a concentration of the elements of the recreation business.

"The average resort owner in the region," said Blome "doesn't have over $50,000 invested and his first experience with business development may put him under. He doesn't have the expertise or management skills needed for development."

Aim Is To Trip

Four Lakes Corp. is proposing that there be an intensive development of Stambaugh Township as a demonstration center for Upper Great Lakes tourism development. A private investor with no profit motive, said Blome, has invested more than $300,000 there already in the development of a 25-hole golf course, of which 9 holes have been completed, 9 have been roughed out and 9 plotted.

The developer is a Chicagoan who is a native of Iron County and the development site is adjacent to the Nicolet and Ottawa national forests with their 1,500,000 acres of public wilderness and on Chicago Lake, with 6,000 acres available for development and 2,000 in the ownership of the golf course developer.

The aim, said Blome, is to stimulate interest and get a lot of private entrepreneurs active. An UPGAL-Michigan State University study, he said, had shown that one third of Michigan's tourist businesses lose money each year.

Government Phase

"The major part of the project would have to be financed privately," said Blome, "but we need a package and some features would not be private. We are only a day's drive away from 50 million people, we're on the Wisconsin-Michigan border, and Wisconsin wants a similar complex. There is now no conference center where tourists and business can get together and see many operations working together.

"The conference center itself couldn't be privately financed because it wouldn't be revenue producing."

"It would be impossible to do anything without transportation, and the scenic drive plans skip Dickinson and Iron counties because they are the only two counties in the Upper Peninsula which are without a Great Lakes shoreline."

Four Lakes Plan
Blome said that a prospectus for the project would cost about $45,000. Four Lakes Corp. he said, is a non-profit development organization, and whose sole purpose is to encourage formation of the proposed tourist recreation complex. The group is composed of 11 trustees from various local interests who have received verbal commitments from key landowners.

A team of recreation planners has been retained on a consultant basis and contacts have been made with the universities and with local, state and federal agencies.

Preliminary plans call for at least one large resort motel lodge with food and beverage services. Other major buildings would include a ski-golf lodge, cratic center, and the tourist recreation conference center.

Attractions would include a riding stable, ski lifts, Indian village, trailer camp, tenting areas, boat launching sites, swimming pools and beaches, mobile equipment rentals, and auxiliary services.

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA)
New surveys of Negro attitudes in Watts and other race-troubled areas point a finger directly on needed changes in our national riot-prevention programs.

University men who have completed new surveys of attitudes in Watts have found that the kind of home the Watts Negro lived in and the way he and his family kept up that home seemed to be significant. Twenty-eight per cent of those who lived in poorly-kept homes participated actively in the riots. Only 17 per cent of those who lived in well-kept homes participated.

First among the problems the Negroes in Watts worried about, the survey seemed to indicate, concerned housing and living conditions—dirty streets and dilapidated housing.

These problems ran well ahead of complaints over "discriminatory treatment," "police malpractice" and "bad race relations."

Though there was also Negro concern over the lack of jobs, seemingly, however, job concern was not as large an issue in Watts as living conditions. In fact, living conditions seemed in one way or another connected with other complaints.

For example, those people in Watts with poorly-kept homes tended more frequently to complain of "police malpractice" than those from well-kept homes. They complained, too, more about discrimination and price gouging.

Negroes in a number of surveys in various parts of the United States have indicated that rent gouging is also a major Negro worry. They say they pay higher rents for inferior slum-type, rat-infested housing than white people pay for better homes.

Note one: In Watts, at least, living conditions were a chief cause of complaint. Note two: Negro attitudes varied sharply between those who lived in well-kept (not necessarily better) homes and those who didn't.

This leads to the thought courage formation of the proposed tourist recreation complex. The group is composed of 11 trustees from various local interests who have received verbal commitments from key landowners.

A team of recreation planners has been retained on a consultant basis and contacts have been made with the universities and with local, state and federal agencies.

Jeff Rubens of New York is one of the best of the young group of bridge players who have cropped up in the last few years. He is also a most ingenious writer and composer of bridge hands.

Today's hand shows his illustration of an attempt by West to let his partner get into the lead with South foiling all West's attempts.

In any place except Jeff's fertile brain West would open the king of hearts and continue with the ace. An alert South would discard a diamond on that second heart. Later, he would be able to set up dummy's diamonds to discard both his clubs and wind up making five odd unless West were smart enough to cash his ace of clubs right away.

Jeff explains that even if West is smart enough to see what can happen, South will still be able to make that same loser on a loser play. Suppose West shifts to a trump at trick two. South wins in dummy and is careful to hang on to his deuce. Then he leads dummy's nine of hearts. East is also alert. He rises with the queen and South must trump. Once more South saves his deuce of trumps for later.

A second trump to dummy allows South to lead the jack of hearts. East can't cover and South gets to discard one diamond. Once more all that West can do is to cash his ace of clubs and save the over-trick, because dummy's three of spades is still an entry.

All this give and take illustrates expert bridge at its superbest but not supertrick bridge at its supertrick best.

In that supergame West would open a club and South would never have his chance to get diamonds running in time.

Ann Landers Provide Substitute For Naughty Word

Dear Ann Landers: What months ago a couple our age moved in next door. We had a teen children repeat dirty words they hear from the neighbor's kids? Our four-year-old has come home and said some words my husband never learned till he got into the Merchant Marines.

We have washed out the boy's mouth with soap, deprived him of dessert and told him he couldn't watch the Saturday TV cartoons if he continued to talk nasty, but nothing helps. When he drops one dirty word, he picks up another. He doesn't know what the words mean and when he asks why they are bad we don't know what to tell him.

Please don't suggest that we keep him away from the neighbor's children. It is impossible. Thanks for any help you can give us. — TRYING TO RAISE 'EM RIGHT

Dear Trying: There is no way to prevent children from hearing undesirable language from other children. By the time a youngster gets into the 8th grade he will have heard every dirty word there is. Tell your child certain words are not to be used because they are gutter words. Be emphatic, but don't make such an issue of it that he will use the words as an attention-getting device.

When a child asks what certain words mean he should be told — and make sure that the acceptable words are substituted for the gutter words. In that way he will learn to express himself properly.

Dear Ann Landers: Now and then you print letters from people who have complaints connected with their jobs. I hope you will help me out by printing my letter. You will also be helping out hundreds of other "bag boys" who carry groceries to people's cars.

Every day I walk an extra 10 miles at least — up and down the parking lot, my arms loaded with canned goods, because so many goofs can't remember where they parked their cars. Women are the worst. If they would just pay a little attention it would help us a whole lot. Please tell them. — FLAT FEET

Dear Feet: It would also help if the parking lots had some markers. A few posts with numbers or letters would do a world of good. How about it, grocers of America?

Dear Ann Landers: Two pay cash for the merchandise.

How will you know when the real thing comes along? Ask Ann Landers. Send for her booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference." Send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

John E. Wilbrecht

Seney Refuge Headed By Wisconsin Man

Basic programs of the Seney National Wildlife Refuge will continue, though a new manager has been assigned to the 96,000-acre tract in north-east Schoolcraft County.

The new manager is John E. Wilbrecht, who has been stationed at the Crescent Lake Refuge in Nebraska. Earlier he served at Union Slough in Iowa, Crab Orchard in Southern Illinois and the Necedah, Wis., refuge.

Wilbrecht is a graduate of the University of Michigan, with a major in wildlife management and a minor in forestry. He is married and has three children, a daughter and two boys 5 and 3. He served two years in the Army in the Korean War.

Work at the Refuge includes an inventory of the acreage, for all types of vegetation and topography, including merchantable timber, management of the resident Canada goose population, and biological studies. The inventory will require approximately two more years.

Girl Scout Programs Set For October

The Manistique Girl Scout program is scheduled to get underway in the first week of October, but volunteer help is still needed.

Mrs. David Kelly reports a good response to a call for leaders. Troop leaders still are needed for Central, Lincoln and St. Francis groups. Also needed is a publicity chairman and Council librarian. All interested women, including those who do not have children in Girl Scouts are invited to help.

Plans call for seven Brownie troops, five junior troops, a senior troop and, for the first time in several years, a cadet troop. Girls interested in joining may still register.

St. Francis Plans New 'Teen Classes

The priests and people of St. Francis de Sales parish will begin a new program in Teen Age Religious education Monday, Oct. 2, with teens helping one another along with the teachers in the new approach.

Freshmen and sophomores meet at St. Francis de Sales parish center every other Monday night for a class in groups not larger than 10 boys and girls. Freshmen will implement the new Herder & Herder course entitled "Friendship" and sophomores will take the first of a series of discussion pamphlets published by the Redemptorist Fathers in Liguori, Mo.

Juniors and seniors will meet in homes, with five or six in a group, and will be taught by married couples and laymen, using the next two discussion pamphlets in the same series. They will meet every other Monday night, for a total of 16 sessions.

On intervening nights the teens will take part in general activity or a liturgical or paraliturgical service. General activity might be a dance, a guest speaker, an improvised trip such as a softdrink blast, a hobby night or a ski party. An example of a liturgical service would be a Mass or a Sacramental ceremony, such as a Baptism in which students would be involved in planning and implementing the various aspects involved, for better appreciation of the meaning of the ceremony and better participation in liturgical ceremonies. An example of a paraliturgical service would be stations and meditations on them. Parents would be invited to participate.

Spontaneous prayer will be emphasized and working together. Creative thinking and discussion will be encouraged to help teens find that Christianity is of this world, before the world to come, and is a strong, challenging, fresh and original religion, with each Christian possessing something to contribute to other human beings to make the journey to the promised land easier.

Teachers in the program are: Seniors - Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. LeBrasseur, Mr. and Mrs. William Beaudin, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hoholik, Mrs. Hudson Johnson.

Juniors - Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Savoie, Mrs. K. W. Elmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Villeneuve, Mr. and Mrs. William Putvin, Mrs. James Sling, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schulze, Mrs. John Moffat, Miss Phyllis Tova, Mr. and Mrs. Dino Pirola.

Sophomores - Fr. Daniel Zaloga, Mr. James Brulla, Mrs. E. W. Wuehler, Mrs. Ellsworth Davenport.

Also in the program and substitute teaching: Mrs. Carl Makel, John Pat Miller and Richard Stoll.

Holiday Tea, Extension Plans To Be Discussed

Extension Council members will meet Oct. 3 at 3:30 p. m., in Manistique High School to discuss programs for the year. Mrs. John Haindl, council chairman, will present suggestions for the community holiday tea.

Vietnamese To Train At NMU

MARQUETTE (AP)—Sixteen educational supervisors from South Vietnam will begin a six-week training program in educational administration at Northern Michigan University Oct. 2. The project is sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education and the Agency for International Development.

Med-Facility Opens Dec. 1

Opening of the Schoolcraft Medical Care Facility, now in construction, is tentatively scheduled Dec. 1.

Work on the building is set for Nov. 1 completion. After that furnishings will be put into the 40-bed unit. An open house will be held, with the date to be set later.

Staffing will also be arranged in November, Carlton Hubbard, administrator said. Applications have been received in sufficient number except for registered nurses. It is hoped to have four RNs in the facility.

Patient admission policies are to be set by the administrator and the Department of Social Welfare, on local and state levels.

Fall Migration Of Birds Starts

The geese have started arriving at Seney, and ducks too.

About 3,000 ducks, a large number of them ring-necked, have been observed and about 2,000 geese as the fall migration begins.

The census was made last weekend, so the numbers should be even greater now, the National Wildlife Refuge reports.

MHS Has 15 In Debate

Fifteen students have signed for debate on Manistique High School squads this year.

They include Karl Johnson, a senior; Dorothy Adams, Pat Creeden, Jim Frederickson, Farrah Golat, Marcia Hubble, Laurie MacGregor, Larry Peterson, David Rood and Joan Villeneuve, juniors; Mary Beth Waters, sophomore, and Laurie Hubble, Cindy Frenette, Julie Gerber and Lorris Gilbertson, freshmen.

The topic this year is establishment of uniform regulations to control criminal investigation procedures.

Philadelphia Plot To Poison Police Revealed By DA

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Revolutionary Action Movement, a Negro extremist group, has been charged with plotting to start a riot then poisoning thousands of policemen and top city officials.

Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter said warrants were issued for four members of the group which has been blamed in the past for planning to assassinate moderate Negro leaders and to blow up the Statue of Liberty and other national shrines.

One of the men being sought, Anthony B. Monteiro, 21, walked into a Chicago police station Wednesday night and surrendered. He was ordered held for extradition.

Specter said the warrants charged solicitation and conspiracy to commit murder, incite a riot and arson, attempted murder and other charges.

Li. George Fencil, head of the police civil disobedience squad, said in a court affidavit that the plan was to incite a riot in past summer, then put cyanide in food distributed free to police on riot duty as well as in restaurants and citizens would be taking food and drink.

Specter said one informant also claimed the lives of James H. Tate, Police Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo, and Specter "were to be taken."

Key to uncovering the plot was information offered by a man identified by Specter as Hilton Louis Jones, 22, who said he was a member of the plotting group.

Last week Jones went to the Philadelphia office of the FBI and turned over more than half a pound of potassium cyanide to special agent Edward Cole, Specter said.

Market Firm Early Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was firm in fairly active trading early Thursday.

There were about 175 more advances than declines among individual issues and the averages showed little change.

Steels, electronics and drugs displayed strength. Most other groups were mixed.

Republic Steel advanced about half a point. Sperry Rand and Zenith added about a point. Pfizer and Schering gained about a point.

Amphenol, Wednesday's most active stock, again was heavily traded and was unchanged. The company president said there have been no recent developments to account for the stock's activity.

College Trustees Meeting On Friday

Trustees of Michigan's 28 public community and junior colleges will meet Friday and Saturday at Bay de Noc Community College for the second annual meeting of the Michigan Association of Community College Boards.

The Friday night dinner session will be at The Terrace and the Saturday luncheon at Bay de Noc College.

Over half of the nearly 200 trustees serving on community college boards are expected to attend to consider matters such as the respective roles of the trustee and chief administrator.

Board

Also meeting in Escanaba in conjunction with the second annual meeting of the Michigan Association of Community College Boards will be the State Board for Public Community and Junior Colleges.

Its members are: Herbert McCready, Pigeon, chairman; Richard Davis, Flint, vice-chairman; Dr. John A. McLean, Jr., Detroit, secretary; Mrs. Donald Bacon, Ann Arbor; Charles Boyer, Manistee; Dr. Tony Brouwer, Grand Rapids; James Dotch, Garden; and Dr. Alfred Meyers, Detroit.

Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, is an ex-officio member.

Guidelines for districting and financing community colleges in Michigan.

Principal speakers will be Dr. Max Smith, professor of higher education, director of community college cooperation, Michigan State University; Dr. Harold Smith, director, State Association officers for the past year were: President Harold E. Fischer, Schoolcraft College; Vice President Robert P. Small, Lake Michigan College; Secretary Dr. Dean C. Burns, North Central Michigan College; Treasurer Bert H. Walker, Jackson Community College.

Michigan's community and junior colleges are now completing fall 1967 enrollments. Initial registration figures indicate an enrollment of approximately 80,000 full and part-time students compared with 68,250 fall 1966. Twenty-four of Michigan's established community college districts will offer classes this year.

Four recently-established colleges will enroll their first students fall 1968 and 1969.

The new colleges are Mid Michigan Community College, serving the counties of Clare, Gladwin; Kirtland Community College, serving the counties of Crawford, Oscoda, Ogemaw, and Roscommon; Kalamazoo Valley Community College, serving Kalamazoo County and West Shore Community College, serving Mason-Manistee.

Warn Countries U.S. Can Force Time Changes

LANSING (AP)—Michigan counties that refuse to comply with federally set time standards face possible court action by the U.S. government, the office of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said Wednesday.

"The state no longer has anything to do with it," a spokesman for Kelley said.

"That is a problem for the Department of Transportation, which has the obligation of enforcing the Uniform Time Act."

The spokesman added that the act specifically authorizes the transportation department to go into U.S. District Court to obtain orders against dissenting areas.

The transportation department stepped into Michigan's time controversy late in June and said that all of Lower Michigan falls into the Eastern Time Zone and the Upper Peninsula is in the Central Time Zone.

Boards of supervisors in four Upper Peninsula counties—Marquette, Iron, Chippewa and Schoolcraft—have voted, however, to operate under Eastern Standard Time rather than Central Standard Time when the state switches from Daylight Saving Time Oct. 27.

Dormitory Grant

WASHINGTON (AP)—North Central Michigan College at Petoskey has been awarded an $840,000 grant by the department of Housing and Urban Development, it was announced Wednesday. The grant, with $576,000 raised by the college, will be used to construct two dormitories housing 84 students each and a student union.

Navy Airplanes Collide; Six Men Believed Dead

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Two Navy airplanes—one of them under radar control from the ground—slammed together during a driving rainstorm Wednesday and plunged to earth amid a shower of debris and bursts of flames.

Six men were aboard. One body had been recovered before darkness and rain forced a halt in the search. One officer said all aboard were believed dead.

The Navy said one of the aircraft was an SP2H Neptune patrol aircraft with five men aboard and the other a one-seat RF8 Crusader, a photo reconnaissance jet that is often used as a hurricane hunter plane.

Witnesses said both planes were in flames as they spiraled toward the swampy ocean-front land.

Briefly Told

Application for a marriage license has been made by Earl W. Gilbert, Long Beach, Calif., and Vera Jewel Floyd, Rte. 1, VFW Hall.

State Police are investigating theft of gas, sparkplug wires and a distributor cap from a Delta County Road Commission grader parked on County Road 483, in Garden Township, and theft of $27.50 in sporting goods from a cabin of Clifford Smith on the Manistique River in Doyle Township.

Fines and costs totaling $70 have been assessed against two young motorists in Municipal Court. They are Jon M. King, 18, of 1307 S. 10th St., charged with speeding in a school zone, drag racing, improper re-entrance and no insurance, who was ordered to pay $40; and Reynold Vanlerberghe, 17, of 402 S. 15th St., charged with speeding and drag racing in a school zone, who is to pay $30. They were ticketed by Escanaba police.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summonses to Eugene H. Noblet, 1221 Minnesota, Gladstone, failing to exercise due care; Marjorie J. Olson, 222 S. 18th St., improper backing; Charles M. Malpractice In Death Charged MENOMINEE — Dr. Willard Hayes, Norway physician sued for malpractice July 25, has filed an answer in Menominee Circuit Court.

The doctor was sued for $125,000 in the death of Thomas Bellmore, 12, of Hermansville. Willard Bellmore, administrator of the estate and father of the youth. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney Clair J. Hoehn of Escanaba, and the defendant by Wilfred J. Hupp, Menominee, and Howard Vielmetti, Norway.

The case results from the April 5, 1966 accidental shooting of the 12-year-old by his brother, Joseph Bellmore, 14. He was shot with a .22 rifle. The bullet entered his hip and abdomen as he picked up a baseball.

In the complaint, Bellmore states that he and his wife, Geraldine, drove the youth to the office of Dr. Hayes, and relate that he told them to bring him back April 8 for x-rays. He put a dressing on the injured youth's right hip. However, the couple took their son to the Anderson Memorial Hospital in Norway the evening of April 5, when x-rays were taken. They charge that the doctor incorrectly read the x-rays, and told them to take the boy home, put alcohol on the wound, and cover the wound with gauze.

On April 6, 1966, the youth became ill and died on the way to the doctor's office. Death was caused by peritonitis, an infection of the peritoneum, a lining of the abdominal cavity.

The plaintiffs charge that the doctor failed to give the boy an adequate examination, failed to locate and remove the bullet, failed to take proper x-rays, and failed to perform surgery.

The physician, in his answer, denies that he delayed x-ray investigation, and said he did advise the parents of the seriousness of the wound. He also said that the parents told him, originally, that the wound was caused by a pellet rather than a rifle bullet, and x-rays did not reveal bowel damage.

The physician also maintains that he told the plaintiff to call him immediately in case of complications, and contends that he used care and diligence to the best of his ability.

Dr. Hayes also maintains that the youth was given an adequate examination, that he could not locate a bullet and that exploratory surgery was not indicated.

The physician contends that the parents were responsible for the loss of the youth's life through negligence, and that the parents failed and refused to cooperate, and did not follow instructions he had given them.

The physician's attorneys ask that the charge be dismissed.

Housing Code: Public Urged To Study Proposal

The City of Escanaba is preparing to adopt a Housing Code which will affect many of the city's residents now and in the future.

The City Council and administration, seeking to give the proposed Code the widest possible public attention in advance of its hearing for adoption, today begins its publication in the Daily Press on Page 12.

The public is requested to turn to Page 12, read today's opening sections of the Code, and clip them for reference. Successive sections will be published each day except Sunday until the Code has been presented.

By clipping today's advertisement on Page 12 and those that follow, the reader will have a complete text of the also played down action there. The day's military communique omitted all mention of Con Thien and referred instead to "Marine Corps combat base complexes in northern Quang Tri Province."

But Marine gunners were still firing back more than 6,000 shells and tactical jets and high-altitude bombers poured in more. B52s Wednesday night and today flew four strikes in support of Con Thien, laying down 600,000 pounds of bombs in saturation patterns as close as two miles to Marine trenches. Just two miles below Con Thien, a patrolling Marine company found a North Vietnamese platoon of about 25 men dug into bunkers prepared despite intensive Marine sweeps of the area. A sharp firefight flared and the Marines counted three dead and 15 wounded before the North Vietnamese pulled out, leaving behind two dead.

Shell 'Green Berets'

Communist gunners also dropped mortar shells on American and South Vietnamese camps up and down the country. Four scattered "Green Beret" camps manned by American Special Forces troops were shelled, a handful of South Vietnamese militia posts in the Mekong delta were hit and units in a U.S. 25th Division sweep in the Ho Bo Woods 25 miles northwest of Saigon were shelled.

In Saigon, Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu agreed to discuss the demands of 1,000 Buddhist monks and nuns who congregated in front of Independence Palace, which houses his office.

Then, a Roman Catholic had previously ignored requests by the Buddhist members of a militant anti-government group, for a meeting. They are protesting the government's acceptance of a new Buddhist charter that recognizes a moderate sect as the official Buddhist church of South Vietnam.

The demonstration was considered the biggest show of strength by the militant Buddhists in more than a year.

Music Program Friday Features Young Violinists

A new educational venture in Escanaba will make its public debut Friday when four young violinists are featured in a demonstration of the Suzuki Method of violin instruction.

The program at the Escanaba Area High School auditorium will begin at 7:30.

Although enrolled in a privately managed course of instruction, the students—Amy Lynn Chown, 5; Julie Fletcher, 9; Carole Beck, 8, and Karen Chown, 8—will appear on the introductory program to show parents of prospective Escanaba Area orchestra students what can be accomplished on a violin in just a few months of study.

The Suzuki Method, named after a Japanese educator who developed the method, was introduced to the United States about six years ago and had become an extremely successful and popular approach to the instruction of young, pre-school children, gaining public recognition through appearance of Suzuki's students ranging in age from six to 16 on the Ed Sullivan television show.

Listening Emphasized

Basically a method of rote (a repetition of forms or phrases) teaching, emphasis is placed on listening and ear training, eliminating printed music and note reading until the pupil acquires technical mastery of his instrument.

The principal corresponds, for example, to the way a child learns a language—first by listening, then by imitation of sounds and finally by reading and comprehension of ideas.

It is Suzuki's premise that a child cannot be surrounded early enough in life with fine music and in Japan the method begins while the child is still in the cradle with the playing of selected recorded music and the training of his parents.

Actual training begins at an age when the child can comfortably hold a violin commensurate with his physical growth, usually at age three. Total parental involvement is required.

The Suzuki Method was introduced to the Upper Peninsula in June by Kristine Fletcher, a recent graduate of Northern Michigan University who is presently a string instrument instructor with the Oshkosh, Wis., public schools. Miss Fletcher worked with the four Escanaba youngsters, meeting an average of three times a week for 10 weeks.

Teaching Continues

She was assisted by Joanne Petersen, violinist and second year student at Bay de Noc Community College who plans to continue her education at Northern Michigan in the field of music education.

Pine Ridge 4-H Club Elects Officers

The Pine Ridge 4-H Club elected officers at their first meeting of the season Tuesday at the Pine Ridge School.

Officers are: Jane Larson, president; Barbara Fudula; Janet Gucky, secretary; Ruth Preister, treasurer; Pam Porath, Dorothy Schaut, lunch committee; Barbara Fudula, recreation and Darlene Deno, reporter.

The club members have selected the name Sew-ers-A-Go-Go for their club. Dues have been set at $1.00 and meetings will be held the last Thursday of the month at 7 p.m.

Miss Peterson is continuing the instruction during the school year on a weekly basis and it is hoped that the program will expand at the pre-school level and in the early elementary grades before the introduction of strings in the public schools, usually at grade five.

The program Friday will include group numbers, solo selections by each child and a brief explanation and demonstration of the teaching method. Anyone interested in music is invited.

Escanaba District Has Three Fires

Seven forest fires were reported in the Upper Peninsula in the week ending Sept. 23, burning 5.9 acres. Three fires in the Escanaba District burned 3.3 acres. A total of 333 U. P. fires have burned 829 acres to date. Last year at this time there had been 386 fires burning 2,403 acres.

The bride chose a silk organza floor length gown with an overlay of lace fashioned with an Empire waistline, lace Kabuki sleeves and a tiered silk organza train trimmed with Chantilly lace.

A crown of seed pearls and aurora borealis stones and sequins on Chantilly lace veiled her elbow length veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of yellow roses, white carnations and white mums.

Matrons of honor for her sister was Mrs. James Grodz of Marquette and bridesmaids were Betty Rose Kozak, Somerville, N. J., sister of the bride, and Ruth Anne Christianson, Fond du Lac, Wis., bridesmaids. The bride and groom were joined in marriage by the Rev. Norbert Freiberger, officiating at the nuptials at 1 p. m. Bouquets of yellow, white and orange gladioli, adorned the church altars for the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Severinsen of Rte. 1, Gladstone and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Kozak of 4 Briarwood Dr., Somerset, N. J.

B&PW Members To Observe NBW Week

Plans for the observance of National Business Women's Week Oct. 15-21 were discussed at the meeting of the Escanaba Business and Professional Women's Club held Tuesday evening at the Sherman Hotel. Mrs. Ardyth Flaherty, president, conducted the meeting.

Posters depicting the role of women in business will be displayed by members of the club who are in business during that week. The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs has suggested accent on women's role in the community for the week as follows: Monday, accent on religion; Tuesday, community participation; Wednesday, youth; Thursday, culture; Friday, world affairs; and Saturday, accent on careers.

The district meeting of B&PW Clubs will be held in Newberry on Oct. 15, with a number of local members attending. District Director Jean Kasun announced that information will be available to members at the October meeting.

The following new members were accepted: Mrs. Elizabeth Lavoie, Mrs. Velma Smith, Mrs. Charles Schmidt and Mrs. Lavina Moss.

The Michigan Federation is observing its 50th anniversary this year and individual clubs will present a gift of a special project at a birthday commemoration to be held in Lansing in February.

A mock wedding ceremony was arranged by Program Chairman, Emily Williams and a number of members participated.

Bethany Lists Special Events For October

Sunday at the 10:45 Service at the Bethany Lutheran Church Bibles will be presented to church school pupils who are in the fourth grade this year. Children who will receive Bibles are: Chris Anderson, Dawn Anderson, Robert Appel, Larry Bowman, Gary Branzell, Mark Buckland, Catherine Carlson, James Carlson, Ricky Denessen, Susan Hanson, Keith Kivi, Amy Lindley, Kim Moraco, Charles Perryman, Terry Plouff, Richard Rolig, William Servant and Vicky Starrine. William Mulvaney, chairman of the Christian Education committee, will make the presentations.

An open house will be held later this month as part of the observance of the 450th anniversary of the Reformation.

The church youth will present a play, the children will give the story of Martin Luther and a special Reformation musical program, will be the October special events to which the public is invited.

Worship services are held each Sunday morning at 8 and 10:45 a. m. at the Bethany Lutheran Church. Sunday School meets at 9 a. m. The Bethany Church is located at the corner of 1st Ave. S. and 11th St. Anyone without a church home in the area is urged to attend and become a member of the church family.

Presbyterian Women Hold Autumn Supper

Colorful arrangements of bright fall flowers and leaves decorated the tables for the autumn supper held Tuesday evening for the United Presbyterian Women and friends.

Chairman of the event was Mrs. Jack Sprague and she was assisted by the Mesdames Melbert Roberts, Thomas Irish, Albin Olson, Gerald Nelson, Merritt Kason, Thomas Mannebach and Edith Hughtitt.

During the brief business meeting Mrs. Joseph LaCrosse, president, told of the triennial meeting of United Presbyterian Women held at Purdue University, which she attended.

Mrs. William DeHaan, fellowship chairman, dedicated the offering of the least coin. Women all over the world collect the least coin of their country and once a year this money is gathered together to be used for a worthwhile project. World service chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Killman, gave a short report and displayed the sewing quota to be sent to mission stations.

A panel composed of Mrs. M. H. Garrard Jr., David Laakso and Rev. and Mrs. Philip Lyon discussed the changing patterns in church music from the earliest instruments and songs to the present use of jazz in some churches.

Mrs. Lyon sang an arrangement of the Twenty-Third Psalm by Anton Dvorak as an example of traditional music. An example of a modern day hymn was sung by the women attending. This was a hymn written for a baptism service with words by Rev. Philip Lyon.

Road Commission Can't Use Union Pension Program

Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley has ruled that a labor union pension plan which is not a legal reserve authorized to write annuities in the state cannot be used by a county road commission.

The issue was a point of bargaining between the Teamsters Union and the Delta County Road Commission for their labor contract. The commission prevailed with its position that the Teamsters' pension plan could not be legally used by the commission and this position has now been confirmed by the attorney general.

Kelley was asked by Senator Thomas F. Schweigert (R-Potosky): Does Public Act 165 of 1965:

1. Make mandatory the inclusion of all eligible employees of a county road commission in its pension plan?

2. Permit a county road commission to legally participate in a pension plan through contributions to a labor union fund which is not a legal reserve company?

Kelley answered: "County boards are empowered to provide group life, health and accident or hospital insurance and to participate in the cost of policies for county employees, including the county road commission. The road commission may also participate in cost of insurance for county employees where the board of supervisors hasn't made such benefits available."

"It is my opinion that Act 165 makes mandatory the inclusion of all statutorily eligible employees of a county road commission at the time such plan is adopted by the county. "Public Act 185 further requires that endowment policies or annuities provided for therein shall be purchased from legal reserve companies authorized to write annuities in this state."

"All corporations doing business in this state involving an insurance or pledge for the payment of annuities, or for the payment of monies to families, shall be deemed to be life insurance companies within the meaning of the laws relating to life insurance within this state."

"Under the statutory prohibition of Section 24.1402, MSA, no person shall act as an insurer, and no insurer as a legal reserve company shall issue any policy or otherwise transact insurance in Michigan except as authorized by a certificate rule in all jurisdictions that public pension funds derived from employee contributions, either voluntary or compulsory, are public funds."

"It is therefore my opinion that the county road commission may not participate in a proposed retirement plan providing for contributions to a labor union fund which is not a legal reserve company authorized to write insurance in this state."

LS&I To Erect Chatham Signal

The Michigan Public Service Commission has ordered the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad to upgrade the level of protective devices at its crossing with Highway M-94 one mile west of the village of Chatham in Alger County.

The crossing presently is protected by advanced warning signs, reflectorized crossbucks and pavement markings.

Subsequent to inspection of the crossing by PSC staff, along with representatives of the railroad company, the Village of Chatham, Chatham School District, Rock River Township and the Highway Department, the commission ordered the installation of automatic flashing-light signals, equipped with back-to-back lights and gongs and supplemented by similar flashing-light signals on 12-foot cantilever arms.

Each July 4, U. S. military installations customarily fire a cannon salvo equal to the number of states.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Groleau

Harvey Groleaus Wed 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Groleau, 1418 Wisconsin Ave., will observe their golden wedding anniversary Saturday. The couple will repeat their wedding vows before Msgr. Matt LaViolette at an 11 a. m. Mass at All Saints Church and be guests of honor at a reception at the Midway from 4 to 8 p. m.

The couple were married Oct. 10, 1917 at St. Charles Church, Rapid River, with Fr. Joseph Schaul officiating. Both their attendant, Armosa Groleau and Edward LaBumbard, are deceased.

Mrs. Groleau was born, Margaret LaBumbard, in Rapid River, and Mr. Groleau was born in Clarence Creek, Ont. He came to the St. Jacques area with his family as an infant and the couple moved to Gladstone shortly after their marriage. He went to work for the Soo Line Railroad in 1924 and retired as a conductor on July 3, 1962.

Their two children, Mrs. Gilbert (Jervais) Sinnaeve, of Rockford, Ill., and O'Neal Groleau, of Gladstone and their 6 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren will all be on hand to observe the occasion Saturday.

All friends of the Groleaus have been invited to attend the reception at the Midway.

Cisler Day To Be Observed In U.P. On Oct. 7

Walker L. Cisler, chairman of the board of directors of Detroit Edison Co., has been honored by the city governments of Escanaba and Gladstone in connection with the upcoming Walker L. Cisler Day in the Upper Peninsula. It will be observed on Saturday, Oct. 7 when Cisler is honored at a testimonial luncheon in LaSalle High School, St. Ignace to be attended by hundreds of U.P. civic leaders.

Cisler has been one of the U.P.'s staunchest friends downstate for many years. Head of the state's largest electric utility and director of many large corporations, he was a founder and is co-chairman with Dr. Edgar L. Harden, former president of Northern Michigan University, of Operation Action-U.P., an economic development agency which has been active for years in promoting the peninsula's economy.

Gladstone Salute
The proclamation of observance of Walker Cisler Day in Gladstone by Mayor Raymond Norton says in part:

"He has distinguished himself and cast great credit upon the State of Michigan by his contributions to the electric power industry through his leadership in this vital power source. He has performed great services to the state and nation with the free employment of his great skills as an engineer and industrial organizer, as a good citizen and world-famed utility leader in the framing of sound power policies."

"He has greatly advanced the cause of education by his unwavering support of educational opportunity. He has been honored by our nation for his services to the War Production Board, the Office of War Utilities and the Armed Forces in Europe and has been given high rank as head of the Public Utilities Section of the Allied Expeditionary Forces and been honored by 12 foreign governments and our own government for his work in their behalf."

Escanaba Greeting
"And especially because he has given so freely of his genius and his means to assist economic and cultural development in the Upper Peninsula as a chief sponsor of the Ebasco Report and co-chairman of Operation Action-U.P., I call upon all citizens of Gladstone to join me in sincere thanks to Mr. Walker Cisler, great Detroit friend of the Upper Peninsula, and do proclaim that Saturday, Oct. 7, be observed as Walker L. Cisler Day."

Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe's proclamation says "Walker Cisler, through contribution of his time and financial resources, was instrumental in establishing and proliferating Operation Action for Great Northern Conference football teams have a perfect record against outside competition thus far this season, winning 12 straight games. Iron Mountain has whipped Ironwood, Stambaugh and Iron River, Kingsford has downed Marquette and Norway, Menominee tripped Stambaugh, Madison West and Rhineland, Holy Name has sidelined Lake Linden and Marquette Baraga and Escanaba has pinned setbacks on Antigo and Canadian Soo.

In addition to gaining 45 yards rushing against Bemidji last Saturday, former Holy Name athlete Bob Brice caught a five yard pass for the Northern Michigan Wildcats. Brice's 7.5 rushing average is the best on the Northern squad.

Quarterback Bob Cowman of Manistique has already matched his record of throwing eight touchdown passes in eight games last year. The senior southpaw has completed 33 of 75 attempts for 700 yards in four games. He set a new school record last year by completing 101 of 246 for 1,350 yards.

Eight different Escanaba players have scored touchdowns in four games. Reaching paydirt for Coach Jerry Cventos' undefeated Eskymos have been Jim Olsen, Ken Rohltalle, Greg Johnson, Steve Miketinae, Tom Boyle, Dan Mylander, Butch LaBay and Jerry Brazeau. Olsen, junior fullback, is the scoring leader with five TDs.

Holy Name's Chris Young is one of the ablest pass receivers in the region this season. He put his talents on display in the clash with Lake Linden here Saturday and drew a roar from the crowd with a spectacular one-hand snag on a toss from Dave Buckland in the Whiz Kids' end zone. Young has touched on three touchdown passes from Buckland and has scored twice on running plays to lead the Holy Name offense.

The Gladstone Braves also have an outstanding receiver in Bill Johnson who has pulled in two touchdown aerials to date. Johnson, Dan Gobert and the injured Dan Pepin have scored a pair of touchdowns each for the Braves while Steve Nelson and Rick Lorenson have dented the enemy goal line once apiece.

Almost certain to win the Wolverine Conference scoring championship this season is Tom Smith, 5 foot 10 inch, 165 pound senior quarterback at Powers-Spalding. Smith has run for eight touchdowns in three games and has passed to end Scott Riedy for four more.

Iron River and Stambaugh school districts are expected to complete consolidation by next year and will combine to produce one athletic program. The new school has made application for membership in the Great Northern Conference and will undoubtedly be accepted at the next conference meeting. Iron River and Stambaugh are presently members of the Menominee Range Conference which will probably fold when the two schools become one.

Albion, now consolidated with Crystal Falls, has officially dropped its membership in the Big Seven Conference and officials have renamed the league the Big Six. Remaining members of the league are Channing, Hermantown, Felch, Carney, Powers and Pembine.

John Andriacchi, a senior halfback, gained 141 yards in 26 carries and scored all three touchdowns as Ishpeming topped Munising, 21-14, in Great Lakes Conference action. The victory evened Ishpeming's record at 2-2 while the setback was the third in four starts for Coach Bill Earle's Mustangs.

Ontonagon staged a fabulous fourth quarter comeback to trip Calumet, 28-20 in a Copper Country Conference thriller. Trailing by a 20-7 margin Ontonagon exploded with Bob Seid scoring twice and Ron Cleary once in the final eight minutes of the game.

Esky, Crusader Gridders Pace Great Northern

Escanaba and Holy Name players lead every individual category in the Great Northern Conference, according to official statistics released today by Ken Peterson.

The front running Eskymos have Jerry Brazeau atop the rushing and pass interception lists and Jim Olsen in first place in the point parade. Brazeau has gained 105 yards rushing and has intercepted three enemy passes from 22 yards. Olsen has four touchdowns on 24 points.

Holy Name's league leaders are quarterback Dave Buckland and halfback Chris Young in the throwing and receiving departments. Buckland, currently sidelined with a leg injury suffered against Lake Linden last weekend, has completed 16 of 35 passes for 218 yards. Young has caught 11 tosses for 161 yards.

The lone conference game on tap this weekend will send Holy Name to Menominee for a Saturday night contest. Coach Tom O'Neil has named Bob McGinn, a 5 foot 10 inch, 160 pound sophomore, to take over for Buckland.

The Crusaders carry a 2-2 overall record into the game while Menominee has won three straight since an opening loss to Escanaba.

The other Great Northern teams will take on non-conference foes this weekend. Escanaba puts its 4-0 record on the line Saturday in a home stand against Marquette University high school of Milwaukee Saturday afternoon. Kingsford hosts Iron River Friday night and Iron Mountain is at Norway Saturday.

Heading into the Milwaukee-Marquette game, the Eskymos are ranked No. 1 in the Upper Peninsula this week. The team has won six straight games, counting the last two of the 1966 season, and have blanked four of those victims. In the four games this fall the Eskymos have allowed opponents an average of 65 yards rushing and 35 passing. They have intercepted seven passes, recovered seven fumbles and blocked one punt.

Coach Jerry Cventos announced this week that junior end Bill Baum has been lost for the season with a knee injury. Senior quarterback Steve Miketinae is still sidelined with a broken thumb. Back on the healthy list this week are sophomore fullback Mike Dupont and junior halfback Dan Mylander. Milwaukee, coached by former Iron River athlete Frank

Red Wings Nip Rangers, 4-2

KITCHENER, Ont. (AP)—New York goalie Ed Giacomin was trapped out of position in the third period and Gary Bartlett deflected a shot by Bart Crashey for the winning goal as the Detroit Red Wings defeated the New York Rangers 4-2 Wednesday night in a National Hockey League Exhibition match.

Bob McCord sewed the game up for the Wings with a later goal. Alex DelVecchio scored for Detroit in the first period and Hank Monteith upped the tally in the second.

Virtually Eliminated From Daffy AL Race

Eddie Stanky's Walking Dead finally appear to have died, stricken with the last lethal blows from a most unexpected source.

Poised to seize the lead in the daffy American League pennant race Wednesday night, the Chicago White Sox tumbled to fourth place, just an eyelash away from elimination.

The villains were the usually harmless Kansas City Athletics, whose lease to the cellar has been locked up for weeks. The A's swept a two-night doubleheader from the White Sox 5-2 and 4-0, leaving Chicago with nothing more to hope for than a slim chance of forcing a playoff.

Front-running Minnesota bowed to California 5-1 and Boston dropped its second straight to Cleveland 6-0 Wednesday afternoon. Detroit was idle. That meant that when the White Sox took the field against the A's, they were a mere one-half game behind the Twins and led the three other contenders in the vital loss column.

Less than six hours later, they were on the brink of being completely out of the picture. The double loss left them with an 89-70 record and a maximum possibility of 92 victories if they sweep their three remaining games against Washington.

Minnesota has already won 91 and Boston 90. Those two teams play their last two games against each other. If they split, Chicago must sweep to tie Minnesota. If Boston wins both games, a White Sox sweep would tie the Red Sox. If Minnesota wins both games, the White Sox are through, regardless of what they do.

In the National League, San Francisco beat New York 7-2 and Houston edged Philadelphia 1-0 and Pittsburgh beat Los Angeles 1-0.

It was a characteristic lack of hitting that did the Sox in. They managed just seven hits in the doubleheader and that, Virginia, is not the kind of attack that wins pennants.

Jim Gosger's three hits drove in three runs for the A's and Chuck Dobson handcuffed the Sox on two hits until the ninth inning of the opener. Then Chicago pushed across both its runs but Paul Lindblad pitched out of the jam and saved Dobson's 10th victory.

Jim (Catfish) Hunter won his table and started asking tentative questions. He was asked about his pitching rotation.

"It's been posted for a week, where were you?" was Stanky's reply. "How old are you? Twenty? Well, well."

A writer asked Stanky if his players might have tightened up a bit.

"How many games have you seen us play?" Stanky replied. "What did you say your name is? Who's your boss?"

"Do I think we have a chance?" Stanky repeated the question acidly, his blue eyes flashing. "Well, how do I answer that one?"

"I've been in baseball 30 years," he said. "I've seen seven runs in the last of the ninth. I've seen a winning streak of 10. I've seen us in first place. I've seen us in fifth place, and I've seen us in sixth place."

"Why, I was drowning one time, and a newspaper man threw me an anchor," he said. "Can you imagine that?"

Chuck Dobson won the opener for the A's 5-2. Catfish Hunter was a 4-0, three-hit winner in the second one. Unless all the forecasters are dead wrong, it was the last time the A's will play in Kansas City. A noisy crowd of 5,325 was on hand. Owner Charles O. Finely is expected to move the club.

"We may never play another game in Kansas City," Hunter said. "The entire team wanted to go out a winner. I'd like to stay here."

Dobson had another incentive. "One time in Chicago early in June, I had to cover first and Stanky called me a donkey," Dobson said. "I've never forgotten it."

"I'll remember Kansas City a long time, I guess," Stanky said.

Central League Names Officers

Julian VanDeCaveye of Perkins was elected president of the Central Upper Peninsula League at a recent meeting.

Other officers named were David Pelletier of Big Bay de Noc High School, vice president; Gene DeKeyser of Rock, secretary-treasurer, and Vern Nelson of Perkins, statistician.

The league's annual cross country run was set for Oct. 10 at the Nahma golf course. Officials announced that the league junior high basketball teams will compete in one division instead of two this season.

The Central League membership has been reduced to seven schools with Nahma, Garden and Cooks consolidated into one school, Big Bay de Noc. Other teams in the league are Perkins, Rock, Trenary, Eben, Rapid River and Bark River-Harris.

Detroit Pennant Chances Boosted

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers' pennant chances, slimmer than Twiggy's waistline 24 hours earlier, leaped back to life today as a rash of cataclysmic defeats by also-rans rocked the three other American League contenders.

The idle Tigers, facing the opener of a crucial season-ending four-game series with scrappy California tonight at Tiger Stadium, picked up a half-game on Minnesota, beaten by the Angels 5-1 Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Cleveland beat Boston 6-0 and last-place Kansas City swept a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 5-2 and 4-0. The result left Detroit and Boston one game behind the league-leading Twins while Chicago fell 1½ games off the pace.

But the Tigers and Twins, each with 69 defeats held the American League contenders.

Manager Mayo Smith, off on some cosmic errand, was unavailable for comment, but has said several times this week that Detroit must sweep the Angels in order to win the team's first pennant in 22 years.

"There's no way the Tigers are going to sweep us. No way," said California Manager Bill Rigney, whose team took two straight from Minnesota.

"My guys are ready," Rigney added. "They feel it. They may have their likes and dislikes, who they want to see win this thing and who they want to see lose it, but when they get there they don't care who they're playing. They want to win, win, win."

Smith said he would start right-hander Joe Sparna tonight, with Earl Wilson pitching Friday and Mickey Lolich Saturday. "If none of them falls off a sofa."

Right-hander Denny McLain dislocated two toes in his right foot last week when he said his leg fell asleep and gave out from under him as he arose from a chair. Earlier, slugger Eddie Mathews sprained his right thumb when he slipped on a rug in his Milwaukee home and fell down a flight of stairs.

There is some possibility that McLain, the fourth member of the Detroit starting rotation, may be able to pitch the final game of the season against the Angels Sunday but Smith says, "I'm not looking that far ahead."

Rigney, who plans to pitch left-hander Clyde Wright tonight, told a Detroit newsman "Your guys — ooh, those ninth innings. I'll bet they wish they had a few of those back."

Detroit, which has split its last eight games, dropped three of them after taking leads into the ninth inning. The Tigers have appeared at the end of their rope several times, but each time losses by the other contenders have given them new life.

Yancey, warming to the challenge, termed the Detroit series "vital... it's crucial... it's a key series."

"Nervous?" Rigney said. "Don't let them kid you. They're all nervous. Every one of them. Emotion is part of this game — and you'd better have it."

Yancey Battles Bulging Waist

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Bert Yancey's success on the pro golf tour this year hasn't gone to the quiet ex-Cadet's head—but it has put some bulges in his waistline.

"I've put on about 12 pounds since the Masters," Yancey said before starting his bid today in the first annual Atlanta Classic Golf Tournament.

"That's one of the reasons it takes so long to be a good golfer on the tour," added the 29-year-old winner of the Dallas Open this year, who finished third in the Masters. "It takes about five years to learn how to control your temper, to think, to sleep—and to eat."

"I've got to quit eating potatoes and bread and sweets, that's all there is to it," said the one-time cadet at the U.S. Military Academy who has pocketed $59,004 this year in his top pro season. "This weight is bad for me, but I can't seem to keep it off."

HOUSING ORDINANCE REGULATING SUPPLIED FACILITIES, MAINTENANCE, AND OCCUPANCY OF DWELLINGS AND DWELLING UNITS

AN ORDINANCE establishing minimum standards governing the condition and maintenance of dwellings; establishing minimum standards governing supplied utilities and facilities and other physical things and conditions essential to make dwellings safe, sanitary, and fit for human habitation; establishing minimum standards governing the condition of dwellings offered for rent; fixing certain responsibilities and duties of owners and occupants of dwellings; authorizing the inspection of dwellings, and the condemnation of dwellings unfit for human habitation; and fixing penalties for violations.

WHEREAS, in the City of Escanaba, there are, or may in the future be, dwelling structures which are so dilapidated, unsafe, dangerous, unhygienic, or insanitary as to constitute a menace to the health and/or safety of the people of this City of Escanaba:

BE IT THEREFORE ORDAINED by the Council of the City of Escanaba, as follows:

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE

- 1.1 This Ordinance shall be known as the Housing Code of Escanaba, Michigan.

SECTION 2. DEFINITIONS

- 2.1 General — For the purpose of this Code, certain terms, phrases, words and their derivatives, shall be construed as defined in this section

(a) Words used in the singular include the plural and the plural the singular.

(b) Words used in the masculine gender include the feminine, and neuter.

(c) The word "shall" is mandatory, not merely directory. Where terms are not defined they shall have their ordinarily accepted meanings or such as the context may imply.

(d) Words in the present tense also include the future tense.

- 2.2 Authorized Inspector — shall include, but not be limited to, the City Engineer, the Electrical Inspector, the Fire Inspector, the Gas Inspector, of the City of Escanaba, or their duly designated representatives.

- 2.3 Basement — shall mean a portion of a building located partly underground, but having less than half its clear floor-to-ceiling height below the average grade of the adjoining ground.

- 2.4 Cellar — shall mean a portion of a building located partly or wholly underground and having half or more than half of its clear floor-to-ceiling height below the average grade of the adjoining ground.

- 2.5 Dwelling — shall mean any building which is wholly or partly used or intended to be used for living or sleeping by human occupants; provided that temporary housing as hereinafter defined shall not be regarded as a dwelling.

- 2.6 Dwelling Unit — shall mean any room or group of rooms located within a dwelling and forming a single habitable unit with facilities which are used or intended to be used for living, sleeping, cooking, and eating.

- 2.7 Extermination — shall mean the control and elimination of insects, rodents, or other pests by eliminating their harborage places, by removing or making inaccessible materials that may serve as their food, by poisoning, spraying, fumigating, trapping or by any other recognized and legal pest elimination methods approved by the Authorized Inspector.

- 2.8 Garbage — shall mean animal or vegetable wastes resulting from the use, preparation, or storage of food for human consumption not including wastes from industrial processes and manufacturing operations.

- 2.9 Habitable Room — shall mean a room or enclosed floor space used or intended to be used for living, sleeping, cooking, or eating purposes, excluding bathrooms, water closets compartments, laundries, pantries, foyers, recreation rooms or communicating corridors, closets and storage space.

- 2.10 Hot Water — shall mean water at a temperature of not less than 120 degrees Fahrenheit.

- 2.11 Infestation — shall mean the presence, within or around a dwelling of any insects, rodents or other pests.

- 2.12 Lodging House — shall mean a rooming house as defined in this Code.

- 2.13 Multiple Dwelling — shall mean any dwelling containing two or more dwelling units.

- 2.14 Occupant — shall mean any person over one year of age, living, sleeping, cooking or eating in or having actual possession of, a dwelling unit or rooming unit.

- 2.15 Operator — shall mean any person who has charge, care, or control of a building, or part thereof, in which dwelling units or rooming units are let, for rent or rented.

- 2.16 Ordinary Minimum Winter Conditions — minus fifteen degrees Fahrenheit.

- 2.17 Owner — shall mean any person, who, along or jointly or severally with others: (a) shall have legal title to any dwelling unit, with or without accompanying actual possession thereof; or (b) shall have charge, care or control of any dwelling or dwelling unit, as owner or agent of the owner, or as executor, executrix, administrator, administratrix, trustee, or guardian of the estate of the owner. Any such person thus representing the actual owner shall be bound to comply with the provisions of this ordinance, and of the rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto, to the same extent as if he were the owner.

- 2.18 Person — shall mean and include any individual, firm, corporation, association or partnership.

- 2.19 Premises — shall mean a lot, plot or parcel of land, including the buildings and structures thereon.

- 2.20 Plumbing — shall mean and include all of the following supplied facilities and equipment: gas pipes, gas-burning equipment, water pipes, garbage disposal units, waste pipes, water closets, sinks, installed dishwashers, lavatories, bathtubs, shower baths, installed clothes-washing machines, catch basins, drains, vents, and any other similar supplied fixtures, together with all connections to water, sewer, or gas lines.

- 2.21 Rooming House — shall mean any dwelling, or that part of any dwelling containing one or more rooming units, in which space is let by the owner or operator to one or more persons who are not husband or wife, son or daughter, mother or father, or sister or brother of the owner or operator.

- 2.22 Rooming Unit — shall mean any room or group of rooms forming a single habitable unit used or intended to be used for living and sleeping, but not for cooking or eating purposes.

- 2.23 Rubbish — shall mean combustible and non-combustible waste materials, except garbage; and the term shall include the residue from the burning of wood, coal, coke, and other combustible materials, paper, rags, cartons, boxes, wood, excelsior, rubber, leather, tree branches, yard trimmings, tin cans, metals, mineral matter, glass, crockery and dust and other similar material.

- 2.24 Supplies — shall mean paid for, furnished, or provided by or under the control of, the owner or operator.

- 2.25 Temporary Housing — shall mean any tent, trailer, or other structure used for human shelter which is designed to be transportable and which is not attached to the ground, to another structure, or to any utility system on the same premises for more than thirty (30) consecutive days.

- 2.26 Ventilation — shall mean the process of supplying and removing air by natural or mechanical means to or from any space.

(This HOUSING ORDINANCE REGULATION will be continued in the ESCANABA DAILY PRESS tomorrow, Friday, September 29, 1967, commencing with SECTION 3: MINIMUM STANDARDS FOR BASIC EQUIPMENT AND FACILITIES.)

A Personal Letter To Our Customers:

Due to the recent price increase on all major appliances scheduled for October 1st, we know you will not be able to buy at these 1967 prices after the next few weeks. Now is the time to come down and make a deal! ! ! We must make room for our next carload. We have some 1967 models, some with scratches, some floor samples. We'd like to sell every appliance during this sale.

"WE'LL LISTEN TO ANY OFFER...AND TRADES WILL BE TAKEN WITH HIGHEST TRADE ALLOWANCES." Come in and buy the appliance of your choice at a little above cost. Many one of a kind items...so first come — first served.
